IS THIS DEGREE RIGHT FOR ME?

- With Randolph's newly designed elementary education major, our teacher candidates complete their course requirements for licensure in pre-K through 6th grade within four years and finish with a bachelor's of science degree. The Elementary Education major includes courses in content knowledge in language arts, social studies, sciences, and mathematics with pedagogy, practicum experiences, and student teaching.
- Randolph's elementary education program provides multiple clinical experiences and mentorship opportunities in addition to student teaching.
- Partnerships with local school divisions strengthen community connections for our candidates, and allows us to place Randolph candidates with experienced, veteran teachers.
- Teacher education candidates are observed at least 14 times during the student teaching experience. This intense mentoring provides consistent feedback and promotes effective teaching practices. When candidates complete the program, they are well prepared to enter the classroom with confidence, strong content and pedagogical skills, and dispositions to enhance learning of diverse student populations.

WHAT IS THE IMPACT ON MY DEGREE OF WORK I HAVE ALREADY COMPLETED?

- Associate Transfer Degree Completion: Fulfills General Education Requirements at Randolph College. Listed Education courses transfer.
- Credit for Prior Learning: AP, IB, and CLEP are evaluated for credits
- Catalog Year: Catalog year determined by first semester of attendance at the community college post high-school graduation.

IS THIS COLLEGE RIGHT FOR ME?

- Randolph College is a small liberal arts college located on Rivermont Avenue in Lynchburg.
- The small class sizes, and connections with faculty support individual students throughout their time at the college.
- With so many students stretched thin, Randolph College is revolutionizing higher ed with our innovative TAKE2 curriculum. By taking just two classes each seven-week session, you have more time for your academics — and more time for you.

- Admitted students are guaranteed between $13,000–$18,000 in aid when you file the FAFSA, with the opportunity to earn even more!
- We offer study abroad programs around the world, assistance and facilities for student research, and our $2,000 RISE Grant to fund your own scholarly or creative endeavor.
- Students interested in teaching may complete licensure requirements as an undergraduate or may enter our one year Master of Arts in Teaching program to initial licensure and a Master’s degree. Affordable at $390 per credit hour.
